

OWEN BARRY
DISTINCTIVELY DIFFERENT 1948

SPRING/SUMMER 2016

This look book has been created to give you a flavour of the Owen Barry Spring Summer 2016 Handbag Collection - we hope you like it.

Throughout you will recognise the strength, heritage and influence of Somerset, our home, our heart and the place where we hand cut and make everything you see.

You may already know, that beautiful leather and traditional craftsmanship are our passion, as a result, we are very excited to launch our British Hand-dyed Vegetable Tanned Leather. This eco-friendly skin is exclusive to Owen Barry and we feel makes a significant addition to our already renowned wealth of skin choice.

As always, our vast range of styles and huge palette of colours/skins enables you to put together a Bespoke Collection - made to order.

However, if immediate replenishment is needed then from January 2016 we are also offering our ready to wear Creators Collection showcased online and available from stock together with other best sellers.

We would be thrilled to present our 2016 range.

Of course, you would be most welcome to visit our factory and showroom, see everything being made and enjoy some Somerset hospitality, alternatively please contact us if you would prefer a rep to visit you.

HANDCRAFTED IN SOMERSET

Somerset is still recognised as being one of the UK's leading areas for traditional leather tanning and manufacturing.

Owen Barry have been producing sheepskin and leather products from our traditional workshops in Street, Somerset since 1948. Still today each item is lovingly cut and made by British craftsmen using the very finest British and European skins.

Five generations of the Barry family have been involved with skin tannage and manufacturing, developing Owen Barry into the unique company it is today.

We are still a family business employing 30+ staff all of whom realise that it is these traditional methods plus good old fashioned quality, service and value for money that set Owen Barry aside from the rest.

Our hand cutting and making process is undertaken by our loyal team who have nearly 400 years leather working experience between them. Every bag is individually checked at each stage of the manufacturing process to ensure that you and your customers get the very best of British workmanship.

Our workshop is really interesting, we would love the opportunity to show you around and demonstrate our vast skill base, we know you would enjoy it.

LIFETIME GUARANTEE

All our bags come with a full repair or replacement guarantee – Yes really.
